The Today Show is coming to Tower Street PS on Wednesday 10 April!

We are so excited to be welcoming Tim Davies, the Today Show weather reporter to our school. The Today Show will be broadcasting the weather segments from 5.40am to 9.00am and we are looking forward to showcasing our amazing students. This will be a wonderful opportunity for our students to experience a live television broadcast. Below is an overview of the broadcast schedule:

5.40am Welcome to our school in front of our community mural with the Student Leadership Team and staff members.

6.00am Student Parliament Our Stage 3 students will be involved in demonstrating a Student Parliament sitting in the school hall and explaining the importance of our School Parliament. This segment involves Student Leaders, Parliament Ministers and Year 5 & 6 students.

6.30am Tower Street Artists in the art room: We will be showcasing our specialised art program in the art room. Students will be completing an artwork in the art room during this segment with selected 3-6 students.

7.00am Student Parliament: Our Stage 3 students will be in the background continuing the Student Parliament sitting.

7.30am Library Buddy Reading: Our Stage 3 students will be reading with a K-2 buddy in the library. We will be discussing our pre-school buddy reading programs with selected K-6 students.

8.00am Vegetable Garden: We will be showcasing our school 'Crunch & Sip' garden. Students will be working in the garden and discussing how this garden was established from a School Parliament initiative with Environment Committee members and selected 3-6 students.

8.30am Farewell: The whole school community will gather on the grass playground for the final weather segment. All students and community members are invited to be in the background for this weather segment.

We ask that students are wearing full school summer uniform on the day. Parents and carers are most welcome to stay and watch the live broadcast.

We are looking forward to a wonderful morning showcasing our fabulous students and school community.
